Ward Boundary Review

Rocky View Schools Board of Trustees is reaching out to its electors as part of a review of electoral ward boundaries. As of January 2013 the total population of the region was approximately 122,220; by 2015 the population of the region had grown to 145,363, resulting in an uneven distribution of population across the jurisdiction. The Ward Boundary Review is in keeping with the Board's desire to ensure good governance and to examine its electoral representation across the jurisdiction. To lead the review, Alberta School Boards' Association Education Consultant Brian Callaghan has been retained. Several avenues for feedback will be utilized throughout the process, including a series of town hall style meetings hosted by Brian Callaghan (Cochrane session will be held at RancheView School on Tue Nov 29 @ 7pm.) as well as a ward boundary survey. Your feedback is important; please take the time to bring your thoughts to the table by attending a meeting in your community and/or completing the online survey.
